DENGUE FEVER.

Reports From all Parts of Group Shows General Prevalence.

Honolulu, June 20.—Dengue fever has made a complete occupation of this group, according to the reports of government physicians for May. In the column under the question, in the tabulated returns: "Has there been any one disease unusually prevalent in the district, and if so what was it?" Affirmative answers are given by Dr. B. F. Sandow for Waimea, Kauai, by Dr. Dr. Thomas McMillan for Waianae, Oahu, by Dr. A. Mouritz for leeward Molokai, by Dr. R. J. McGettigan for Hana, Maui by Dr. B. D. Bond for North Kohala and Dr. J. Atcherley for South Kohala, Hawaii, by Dr. W. B. Deas for North Kona and South Kona, Hawaii, and by Dr. C. L. Stow for South Hilo, Hawaii—all mentioning dengue as the prevalent malady. There were 130 cases in Hana, 75 in Waimea, 54 in North Kona and 33 in South Kona.

Dr. Charles Davison for Lahaina says the dengue has died out there. Whooping cough is reported prevalent in Kihai and Kula, Maui, by Dr. R. H. Dinegar, and in Koloa and Lihue, Kauai, by Dr. E. S. Goodhue under the name "pertussis."

Influenza is reported by Dr. W. F. McConkey for Makawao and Dr. Bond for North Kohala.

Dr. R. G. Curtis notes typhoid fever as the chief trouble in Olaa, but with only four cases. Fever is mentioned, though not as unusually prevalent, in Koloa and Lihue already mentioned; in Waialua, Oahu, by Dr. H. Wood; in leeward Molokai, Kihai and Kula, in North Hilo by Dr. Fred. Irwin, in Olaa, and in Kau by Dr. L. S. Thompson.

Only two doctors have recommendations to offer. Dr. Dinegar thinks children infected with whooping cough ought to be kept out of school, and he had given orders accordingly in his district.

Dr. Davison of Lahaina sounds a war cry against the Christian Scientists, saying:

"I wish the Government would seriously consider the subject of Christian Science. They are doing a great harm in this district. The leaders are fanatics and they are rapidly demoralizing our Hawaiian people. I wish their church in Lahaina to be closed. If necessary I can give further details."

Terry to Honolulu.

Captain White, acting commandant of the Naval Station, was advised by cable today of the appointment of Rear Admiral Silas W. Terry to be commandant at the Honolulu Naval Station. No details as to the time of the new commandant taking command here were given.

The appointment of Admiral Terry to this port is regarded as very significant. He is at present the commandant of the Washington Navy Yard. Recently he was ordered detached from that position, said detachment to take effect July 1.

Admiral Terry's appointment to this station is made, it is thought, in connection with the future plans of the department regarding the construction of the navy yard at Pearl Harbor. He has been close to the head officials of the department in Washington and is familiar with their ideas and intentions regarding the establishment of the naval base in the Hawaiian Islands. His transfer to the Honolulu station has unquestionably been dictated by the desire of the department to have some one intimately acquainted with its wishes, in charge of the extensive work that is to be undertaken shortly at Pearl Harbor.

Inasmuch as Admiral Terry's detachment dates from July 1 it is highly probable that he will arrive in Honolulu the latter part of next month to take command.

Washington, D. C., June 18.—Chief Clerk Kimball has been appointed temporary head of the Postoffice money order department in place of James T. Metcalf, who was yesterday dismissed for irregularities in connection with department contracts.

NEW STEEL STEAMER.

Wilder S. S. Co. Has Placed Order for New Vessel.

Wilder's Steamship Company will the first of next year make a notable addition to its fleet. President Charles L. Wight, on his recent visit to the Coast, placed an order with the Union Iron Works of San Francisco for the construction of a new steel steamship.

This vessel is to be built upon the model of Wilder's steamer Kaiulani, these being the dimensions: Length 134 feet, beam thirty feet, depth of hold twelve feet six inches. She will have a carrying capacity of something more than 400 tons dead weight, net. Her contract speed will be 9½ knots when the vessel is half loaded at sea.

The new steamer is designed especially for the Molokai route, with passenger accommodations to give perfect satisfaction from a sanitary point of view. There will be five staterooms for first-class passengers.

Hoisting gear will be installed like that in the rest of the Wilder fleet, which, it is noteworthy, has been copied in the great freight boats of the Hawaiian-American Steamship Co. This type of gear was designed by President Wight and Captain Johnson, superintending engineer of the company.

The steamer will be ready in 1904. Her name will be selected in the meantime. The cost of the vessel is $90,000.

Chinese Deposits Alright.

Honolulu, June 20.—Enough Chinese fund depositors have presented their claims to Secretary Carter now to make it possible to judge whether the accounts were straight, and there are no indications aside from the $800 shortage that matters were not kept right by Wray Taylor, who had the fund in charge. The opportunities for wrongful disbursement of the fund were quite good and when Taylor's $800 shortage was reported the prediction was made that an examination of the fund and the accounts connected with it would disclose further shortages.

The Chinese, however, have been coming in by hundreds, and in only a couple of cases, explainable by natural errors, or frauds on the part of the Chinese, has it been found that the money owned by Chinese has been drawn by others than those entitled to the coin. "Aside from the shortage at first found, after the departure of Taylor, there are no signs of irregularities," said Secretary Carter.

There are no more crowds about the Secretary's office now, but the number of claimants represented is as large as ever. The mails from other islands bring passbooks by the hundreds, with assignments to other parties for collection here. There are enough books and applications on file now to keep the office busy till Friday next if no more come in.

Helen Gardener at Honolulu.

Honolulu, June 20.—Among the passengers on the American Maru arriving yesterday were Col. and Mrs. S. A. Day who are to stop off in Honolulu for a couple of weeks. Mrs. Day is a well known novelist and writer on sociological subjects under the name of Helen M. Gardener. She is on a tour of the world, with her husband, Col. Day, to whom she was married about a year ago. Mrs. Day has written "The Unofficial Patriot" and much on scientific and sociological subjects, but illness has prevented work on her part for the past few years.

Colonel Day was the first man to raise the American colors in Porto Rico, and after the war he was in charge of the artillery corps there.

Large Fire in San Francisco.

San Francisco, June 19.—The store of Cunningham, Curtiss & Welch caught fire today and caused a loss of $100,000. Cunningham, Curtiss & Welch (incorporated) are importers and jobbers dealing in books and stationery and were located at 321-325 Sansome street. Samuel B. Welch is president of the concern; Edwin B. Curtiss, vice-president and Jacob Apple, secretary.
